AIM/OBJECTIVES

To explore, based on existing experience, the "seven principles" of e-learning ecologies, which open up real possibilities for what we call "New Learning" - transformational learning of the 21st century.

- To prepare, with the theory and practice of a Masterclass, to succeed in professionally and personally by acquiring innovative and pioneering knowledge in a world increasingly dominated by digital information flows and digital communication tools.

- Meet the experts of the theory of "New Learning" and "Digital Affordances", Mary Kalantzis, Bill Cope and their collaborators.
- Framing and reframing the knowledge gained last year due to the COVID -19 pandemic.
- 20 days and 55 hours, short, suitable time for acquisition of the content of a longer course with the highest learning outcomes.
- Accumulated experience from the experts in digital environment management.
- International learning community.
- Certificate of Training with Supplement of Europass Certificate and 2.2 ECVET from NKUA. (Centre of Continuing Education and Lifelong Learning CCE/KEDIVIM).
